Page Properties

Pages have some properties which allow you to control how the page is shown to users:

Title

The page title is the link text that appears in the navigation bar of the main user interface.

Route

The page route is the URL path used by CTFd to display the page. For example, if the CTFd URL is `demo.ctfd.io` and the route is `faq` the page would be accessible at `demo.ctfd.io/faq`

Format

The page format determines what markup languages you write your page in. Currently markdown and HTML are supported.

Draft

Draft pages can only be seen by admins.

Hidden

Hidden pages can be seen by any users but are not listed on the main navigation bar.

Authentication

Authentication Required pages require the user to be logged in to see the page contents.
